Agreement terms

Enrolment and participation. By enrolling in the course, the participant agrees to fully engage in and complete the program as outlined in the course schedule. The course is accredited at Level 1 by the International Coaching Federation (ICF), and adherence to ICF standards and requirements is mandatory for all participants.

Partial completion. Full course completion is required to receive credit. Participants unable to complete the course for justifiable reasons are encouraged to contact us to explore joining a future cohort.

Payment and refunds. The participant agrees to pay all course fees by the specified deadlines. Refunds and credits are available only according to the Refund and Cancellation Policy in force at the time of enrolment. Payment plans must be agreed before the course starts.

Confidentiality and ethics. Participants agree to uphold the highest standards of confidentiality and ethics, in line with the ICF Code of Ethics. This includes respecting fellow participants' privacy and refraining from any form of discrimination or harassment.

Technology requirements. The program is delivered online. Participants are responsible for having the necessary technology and internet connection to take part in live sessions, with camera on.

Liability. LeadasCoach OÜ and its instructors are not liable for personal or professional decisions made by participants during or after the course. Participants are encouraged to apply the learning within the bounds of their professional competence.

Communication. Participants agree to receive communications about the course, including updates, resources and feedback requests. They can opt out of non-essential communications at any time.

Governing law. This agreement is governed by the laws of Estonia. Any disputes will be resolved in accordance with Estonian legal procedures.

By enrolling in the course, participants acknowledge and agree to the terms of this Course Enrolment Agreement.
